

NORTHCOTT'S

SPECIAL ATTENTION TO THE YOUTH.

Yes, we know you have been in our youth's clothing department, on the second floor, but have you been here since we installed clothing cabinets in this department?

It has brought about quite an improvement, not only in the appearance and convenience of things, but it makes possible a greater variety in suits for the boy of sixteen to nineteen years, and keeps at all times free from dust and stock wrinkles.

The youth at this age especially requires careful fitting and attention in his clothes.

If he comes, or is sent here for his clothes he is sure to receive it.

There's a pinch of manliness in these youth's clothes, yet they possess every characteristic that a young fellow cares for and should have in his clothes.

Priced from ten to twenty-five dollars.
Overcoat prices the same.

No Responsibility on the Road.

An Ashland paper recently had the following account of an accident:

Roy Talbert, son of Prof. Talbert, of Rush, was walking along the C. & O. tracks between 30th and 31st streets yesterday afternoon when a piece of coal from a passing freight train fell from a car, striking young Talbert on top of the head fracturing his skull. Young Talbert was taken to the hospital, where he was operated upon last night. The boy formerly lived at Palmsville, where he has many friends and relatives.

And by a singular coincidence this decision of the Court of Appeals appeared in a parallel column:

No responsibility for the death of John Mulvey, Jr., of Covington, is placed upon the Covington and Cincinnati Railroad Transfer and Bridge Company by the Appellate Court of this State, for Commissioner Clay handed down an opinion for the Court reversing the judgment of the Campbell Circuit Court, which awarded damages for Mulvey's death.

The lad, while playing near the railroad track at Johnson and Fifth streets, was struck by a lump of coal that fell from a car and his skull was crushed, but the Appellate Court, while upholding the rule that transportation companies must afford protection to persons standing near the track, regards the death of Mulvey as an unfortunate accident and says that it would be impossible to safe-guard persons from such dangers as the one that caused the lad's death.

Court of Appeals.

Williamson, etc., vs. Maynard, etc. Pike; appeal dismissed.

Runyons, etc., vs. Burchett, Floyd; affirmed.

Martin vs. Spurlock, Floyd; reversed.

In Memory.

An Ashland paper speaks of two "memorial local campaigns" which had been held in that city. One must have been the whiskey campaign, the one which resulted in departed spirits—nit.

Catarrh of the Stomach a Prevalent Disease Difficult to Relieve.

A PROMPT AND EFFICIENT REMEDY.

Mr. S. W. Jackson, 815 Weaver Block, Greenville, Ohio, says: "While I was superintendent of construction of J. F. Bender and Bros. Co., of Hamilton, Ohio, I became entirely unfit for business with catarrh of the stomach."

"A friend called my attention to a remedy for this condition. I began to improve at once. I was soon able to return to my former profession."

"It would require many pages to describe the condition I was in and the relief I have obtained."

Here is another case. Officer George Y. Stout, 724 North Broadway, Baltimore, Md., says: "I suffered very much with catarrh of the stomach and nervous indigestion. I lost fifty pounds in four months."

"A friend called my attention to a remedy, which I used, and gradually got well. I have gained half my lost weight back again."

Chronic Stomach Trouble.

Mr. Robert J. Gillespie, 636 South Main St., Los Angeles, Cal., secretary of Lather's International Union, was also suffering from catarrh of the stomach a long time. He grew thinner and paler, lost all ambition and appetite. Sick at the stomach, indigestion continually.

A friend also called his attention to a remedy, which brought about a decided improvement. After continuing the use of the remedy for a month, he considers himself permanently relieved.

Now, once more, Mr. Christian Hoffman, Slaton, Pa., says he suffered for many years with catarrh of the stomach. It produced a miserable cough, day and night. He tried doctors and many remedies. At last his attention was called to a remedy, the same remedy that relieved the others which have been referred to above. He claims that he was entirely rid of his stomach difficulty.

Peruna Brought Back Health.

What was the remedy that has wrought this remarkable relief? So far, the remedy has not been mentioned. If any one doubts the correctness of these statements it is very easy to verify them by writing to the people whose names have been given, enclosing a stamp for reply.

The remedy is within the reach of every one. It is simply the good, old standard reliable remedy known as Peruna.

If the truth were known, the probabilities are that Peruna has relieved as many cases of catarrh of the stomach as any other popular remedy in existence. We have a great many unsolicited testimonials from all parts of the United States, declaring in strong and enthusiastic terms that Peruna has entirely relieved them of catarrh of the stomach, that they were wretched and miserable beyond words, but Peruna has restored them to health, vigor and happiness.

These are the facts. Now, if you have stomach difficulty, it is up to you to act upon them or ignore them, as you please.

Symptoms of Stomach Catarrh.

"The affection may result from errors in diet, or the use of alcohol. The excessive use of tobacco, especially when the juice or the leaves are swallowed, is likely to cause it."

"Highly seasoned or coarse, irritating foods, sometimes induce the disease."

"As chronic gastritis (catarrh of the stomach) is essentially a secondary affection, one of the primary causes is an unhealthy state of the mouth, nose or throat, such as bad teeth or catarrh of the nose (rhinitis)."

"The patients are usually poorly nourished, pale, sallow, thin, fatigued, easily induced, muscles flabby. Loss of appetite or capricious appetite."

"The tongue is usually coated brownish gray. Cankered mouth is a common occurrence."

"Pain is not common. When present it is usually dull, and is aggravated by food, especially when this is of an irritating character."

"Vomiting may occur in the morning. Also after meals. Sickiness to the stomach frequent and persistent."

"Food produces dull headache, and a feeling of general nervous distress. Constipation usually quite marked."

These symptoms, given by Gould and Pyle, coincide exactly with the frequent descriptions Dr. Hartman is receiving from patients all over the United States.

If you have any of these symptoms get a bottle of Peruna. Take a dose before each meal. See if your stomach does not immediately feel better, your appetite improve, your digestion at once resume business.

People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets.

What Thriving Is.

The East Lynn correspondent of the Wayne News tells the people what he means by thriving.

"What I mean by thriving is, the people, or a portion of our young bucks, go with their tails curled up like unto a pig that is in a thriving condition and therefore our people must be all right."
